Shakar Ganj Metals is a Steel based catering unit that is providing steel products and other solutions. Our scope of operations and product profile is diverse with various industries and has increased over time to give us a strong recognition in the steel market which has been brought about by the quality and durability of our work and has always fulfilled customer satisfactions.

We are trying to keep up in the race by subsidizing in machinery and hiring qualified staff so as to provide quality products and tools with the aim to attain customer satisfaction and trust which would always attract them back whenever they think of any products regarding steel.
