As the wedding dates are decided. Lahori neighbors more often hear traditional ever green songs and yes never excluding “taappy”. Those days are gone when wedding rituals were just NIKAH, RUKHSATI and WALEEMA. Now the TRENDY LAHORI weddings start with bridal shower then milaad, dholak, mehendi, manyo though these three are the same things but LAHORI’S love gatherings. Nikkah in BADSHA E MASJID, is too much in trend, just for PHOTOGRAPHY, of course!

The wedding day (rukhsati), where everyone’s eyes are on brides glimmering dress, jewelry and make up. NOT ignoring groom’s fitted cocktail attire. At last, here comes WALEEMA, where mind and ears are more conscious. Witty looks, gossips, fake laughter’s and yes some sinking hearts. Prayers that new ones bring no trouble to their families.

Every bride wants to look like her dreamy princess she never meet or saw on her BiG DAY. Various Pakistani fashion designers have launched bridal collection. Top to bottom, HSY (Hassan Shahryar Yaseen), Fahad Hassan, Maria.B, karma, Umar Sayeed, Sana Safiaz and many more have given out their remarkable bridal collection. These days all is in trend whether it's zari and dabka or heavy work of embellishment. Well, if you can't afford brands then you can design it by yourself but wearing a designer lehenga is definitely every girls dream and demand!

Usually brides are more conscious about their beauty and look. As wedding day is consider very special day for a bride therefore she wants a perfect look and makeup on this day. Mehndi, barat and waleema are the three main days of the wedding. On Mehnd , no makeup used to preferred but these days brides elect to wear party make up, at least; for barat heavy makeup with shimmery eye shadows and shades of red, for sure. Lastly, for Waleema light make up is preferred.

FOOD:

LAHORI'S live for food and it's their first priority .They can compromise on anything but not on food. Because aroma of food direct goes to heart and it stays in it till they find better than before. Though, more than one dish isn't allowed but FOR FOOD they can even go against the law. MORE FOOD , MORE RESPECT!

It would be wrong to say that it's just the LAHORI'S who follow trends and are trendy. Some people like their wedding to be less loud and of low-cost. In short, all weddings are not the same, as all people are not trendy as LAHORI'S ARE!
