- Preparation of shipping goods
- Export documents
- Warehousing
- Booking for shipping
- Cargo space
- Negotiating Freight charges
- Freight consolidation
- Cargo insurance.

We provide three types of Freight and Forwarding services which include:

- Ocean Freight
- Air Freight
- Road Freight

Ocean Freight:

Ocean freight forwarding is the process of organizing the transport of goods by sea. It involves coordinating with suppliers, manufacturers, and shipping companies to ensure that goods are transported safely and efficiently. Sea freight forwarding is a complex process, but it is often the best option for transporting large or heavy items. The major benefit of ocean freight forwarding is that it allows for the transport of large volumes of goods at a lower cost than other methods of transportation. In addition, ocean freight forwarding is often faster than other methods of transportation, making it an ideal option for time-sensitive shipments. If you are planning to transport goods by sea, it is important to work with a reputable ocean freight forwarding company to ensure that your shipment arrives safely and on time.

Sea cargo takes a little bit more time than any longer airship cargo but it's cheaper than if we compare it with air or road. We have our professional agents who make it easy for our customers with any of their concerns. Sea freight forwarding services were considered the all-time best international freight technique, which may continue to be the best technique for shipment. This technique for shipping is adaptable and allows transportation in a safe, secure, and convenient way. Ibrahim Logistic, the best freight forwarder company has the best relationships with all professional shippers and we provide the best value-added services to responsible that every delivery demand is carried out effectively.

With never-ending and superb business relations with every considerable shipping line all over the globe, we offer our patrons sea transportation of their goods in 20'/40' DV/OT containers complete FCL and LCL shipments both. We understand your requirements whether you are looking for full container load (FCL) or less than container load (LCL) transportation services and our agents work hard to get your shipments delivered on time while ensuring the safety of your consignments. We thoroughly inspect each situation before recommending ocean transportation as the most viable solution and will not hesitate to recommend an alternative method if we feel it is in your best interest. You can always count on us to give you an honest assessment of your options so that you can make the decision that is right for you.

Air Freight Forwarding Services:

Goods and products that are usually carried by Air freight Forwarder companies may have many times dangerous chemical components, medical supplies, food supplies, motor vehicles, machinery, and farm animals. Fortunately, cargo aircraft have been designed in such a way to carry and safeguard these goods, and many business organizations and larger firms are aware of the importance of transporting products quickly. Air freight rates are said to be the most economical way to do this because in sea cargo we have no doubt it will be cheaper than air but we have to wait a lot for it.

That is why the agreement of many businesses is to choose Air Freight Forwarding services. It will be more beneficial for you to prefer a Freight Forwarding Company in Pakistan like Ibrahim Logistics that has wide and good associations with different airlines. You can check out their website for more information regarding rates and flights. Choose them for once and you will not regret it.
